

DECLARATIVE SENTENCE

A declarative sentence is a type of sentence that makes a statement, or provides information. It is also known as a declarative statement. Declarative sentences are used to convey facts, opinions or assertions. They do so by not posing questions or giving a command. They are the most common type of sentence in the English language.

Read more

Q1: Which type of sentence makes straightforward statements or conveys information?

- A: Interrogative sentence
  - B: Imperative sentence
  - C: Declarative sentence
  - D: Exclamatory sentence
-

Q2: How do you punctuate a declarative sentence?

- A: Question mark (?)
  - B: Exclamation point (!)
  - C: Period (.)
  - D: Comma (,)
-

Q3: What is the key feature of a negative declarative sentence?

- A: It ends with an exclamation point.
  - B: It includes coordinating conjunction.
  - C: It uses negative words or contractions.
  - D: It is a question.
-

Q4: Which type of sentence is a basic sentence consisting of a single independent clause?

- A: Simple declarative sentence
  - B: Complex declarative sentence
  - C: Compound declarative sentence
  - D: Interrogative declarative sentence
-

Q5: What is the difference between a declarative sentence and an interrogative sentence?

- A: Declarative sentences ask questions and interrogative sentences make statements.
  - B: Declarative sentences end with a period, and interrogative sentences end with a question mark.
  - C: Declarative sentences express strong emotions, and interrogative sentences express commands.
  - D: There is no difference; they are the same type of sentence.
-

Q6: Which type of declarative sentence consists of one independent clause and at least one dependent clause?

- A: Simple declarative sentence
  - B: Complex declarative sentence
  - C: Compound declarative sentence
  - D: Negative declarative sentence
-

Q7: What are the key features of a declarative sentence?

- A: It ends with an exclamation point.
  - B: It asks a question.
  - C: It conveys information or makes statements.
  - D: It uses negative contractions.
-

Q8: Which type of sentence expresses strong emotions or emphatic statements while maintaining a declarative structure?

- A: Declarative sentence
  - B: Imperative sentence
  - C: Interrogative sentence
  - D: Exclamatory sentence
-

Q9: What is the correct way to punctuate a declarative sentence that includes both a subject and a verb?

- A: Use a period at the end of the sentence.
  - B: Use a colon between the subject and the verb.
  - C: Use a question mark at the end of the sentence.
  - D: Use an exclamation point at the end of the sentence.
-

Q10: Which of the following is a common mistake to avoid when writing declarative sentences?

- A: Using a question mark at the end of the sentence.
  - B: Omitting the subject or verb.
  - C: Including multiple independent clauses without appropriate conjunctions.
  - D: All of the above.
-

Answers

---

Q1: C - Declarative sentence

Q2: C - Period (.)

Q3: C - It uses negative words or contractions.

Q4: A - Simple declarative sentence

Q5: B - Declarative sentences end with a period, and interrogative sentences end with a question mark.

Q6: C - Compound declarative sentence

Q7: C - It conveys information or makes statements.

Q8: D - Exclamatory sentence

Q9: A - Use a period at the end of the sentence.

Q10: D - All of the above.