

LIGHT VERB

The English language has a grammar that is not always easy to grasp. There are certain meanings that can be conveyed by particular terms, but those terms often fall somewhere in the grey area between two other marks. The degree to which words and their communication mechanism are effective can be differentiated on a scale from one another according to that degree of efficacy. Let's get a better understanding of light verb and the reasons why they are different from basic verbs.

Read more

Q1: Which of the following is NOT a common light verb in English?

- A: Try Hard
 - B: Make believe
 - C: Makeup
 - D: None of the above
-

Q2: Which of the following is an example of a light verb phrase?

- A: Try Hard
 - B: Make believe
 - C: Makeup
 - D: All of the above
-

Q3: Which of the following is an example of a light verb construction?

- A: Try Hard
 - B: Make believe
 - C: Makeup
 - D: All of the above
-

Q4: True or false: Light verbs are main verbs?

- A: True
 - B: False
-

Q5: True or false: Light verbs are main verbs?

- A: True
 - B: False
-

Q6: True or false: Light verbs are main verbs?

A: True

B: False

Q7: True or false: Light verbs are main verbs?

A: True

B: False

Q8: True or false: Light verbs are main verbs?

A: True

B: False

Q9: True or false: Light verbs are main verbs?

A: True

B: False

Answers

Q1: D - None of the above

Q2: D - All of the above

Q3: D - All of the above

Q4: B - False

Q5: B - False

Q6: B - False

Q7: B - False

Q8: B - False

Q9: B - False